Boats And Shippers On The Big Lake

When an accomplished writer of history undertakes a book covering a period and a community of which he has been a resident for a near half of a century, he is assured of first hand use of memory and tendency to catalogue events.

When that same writer has been a participant as an earner of his daily feed and keep, and has cultivated an ability to recognize and catalogue historical happening, as they happen, then that historian is doubly secure in his source material.

City Manager Says:

Sever Charge Is For Service Not For A "Tap On Charge"

At Monday night's city commission meeting, it was passed on first reading that the city will charge a "Service Charge" of $10 for connecting to the new sewer system.

City Manager, Tevis Hugely, explains that "Service Charge" is to cover the cost of inspection of installations by the city building inspector, and maintains that there is still no tap on charge for connection to the city sewer system.

This motion was tabled at a previous commission meeting when it was pointed out that the previous commission had circulated a pamphlet stating that there would be no charge for connecting to the sewer system, if residents did so within a specified time. It appears that the Commission now feels that it is necessary to charge the fee to cover cost of inspection, however they specify that this is a "Service Charge" and not a tap on fee. The motion will be brought up for final passage at the next regular commission meeting.

City Mr. Hugely points out that the project is running a little ahead of schedule, thanks to the dry weather and that it will most likely be completed by the deadline date of August 31. He states that some of the areas are now complete and that letters will soon be sent to residents in these areas informing them that they may connect to the system. The city will start charging the residents of these areas about 30 days after the letters of notification are sent. The charge for an average residence will be $35.00 per month.

Residents will have 90 days

Four-Laning State Road Tied Down In Bond Issue

Representative Roberts took the lead in being assured that the four-laning of State Road No. 80 from South Bay to West Palm Beach is included in the bill as passed by the Legislature.

The votes of the three Palm Beach County members of the House were necessary to make the desired majority for the urgency of the vote to save a years time, and Mr. Roberts, along with the other members of the Delegation had a conference with the Governor to assure that provisions were made definite.

The following is the Representative's report from Tallly this week:

by Emmett S. Roberts
The big event of the past week in the Florida Legislature was the passage of the 300 million dollar road bond program by the Senate last Thursday and by the House on Monday. The House stayed in session until 10 p.m. Monday evening until final passage. The bill now goes back to the Senate since the House placed different amendments on the bill. An amendment to the bill and one I strongly supported was a conflict of interest change which prohibits any officer or employee of the State from having a direct financial interest in any contract let under this program. In these bond programs the public should be given every assurance that no officer holder or employee of the state will profit from special favors.

There were some 36 amendments offered in an eight hour debate with thirteen of them being adopted. I supported the final passage of the bill because I feel this is the only way state four-laning of roads is a public safety necessity and is the major answer to stopping slaughter on Florida highways.

An unprecedented overruling by one Cabinet Officer (the Attorney General) of another (Mr. Wirtz) secured through the efforts of Senators Holland and Smathers, joined by Congressman Rogers, late Saturday night prevented the departure of 600 offshore harvest hands as previously decreed by the Secretary of Labor.

June 1st is the deadline for the final movement of all offshore harvest hands through the Attorney General's action. Celery and corn growers have made the best of the labor situation since that order came through.

Celery is harvested as fast as it is determined that it is marketable, and reliable estimates are that some 700 acres, or approximately half a million crates are still in the fields as of Wednesday afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon during the visit of the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Roy Vandegrift, Jr., George Wegworth, Sam Benter and Sam Knight attempted to demonstrate to the visitor the difference between the domestic cutting celery and the trained offshore cutter, by allowing domestic cutters to actually cut as members of the "mule train" in the absence of offshore men, and a foreman demonstrating just how the state should be cut.

At several fields the Assistant

Secretary witnessed tractors actually ploughing up celery that had to be "passed over" for lack of harvest hands.

Commissioner Conner and Jeffery David, of the Fla. Fruit and Vegetable Committee accompanied the visitor to the Glades, and on to Miami where the Cabinet officer took a plane for Washington.

Zellwood took a hand in the sweet corn deal when it cut the price to $1.50 per crate, and reports Wednesday afternoon are that $1.25 is the offering price for some sweet corn in the Glades.

No definite decision has been announced concerning offshore labor for the coming season, and plans are in the making for next year's early celery replanting.

Promotion of the ideas of Big Organized Labor of the north-Florida Labor has generally backed the offshore program—the pig-headed insistence of idealistic and impractical ideas about inducing domestic labor to cut sugarcane and celery, and the promotion of the Great Society and the President's Poverty Program—all these seem to have over-riden the application of good old plain "horse sense."

The fate of the 1965-66 crops in the Glades is a matter of speculation, as of Wednesday afternoon, May 26, 1965.

maintaining in the "agricultural area" with its complicated pattern of ownership would be very difficult. The idea of bringing this land into cultivation as soon and as effectively as possible was given particular emphasis.

This, of course, quickly brought the question of ramie culture into the picture along with a hurried review of greatly revised ideas of harvesting and subsequent processing. There was also given a quick review of the very considerable resurgence of industrial interest in this remarkable fiber which augers well for revival of ramie culture under ideal conditions for growth as the Everglades soils afford.

The final phase of the ramie discussion was the showing of a flow chart of costs and profits on this crop which might be expected if and when a harvester-decorator is available to build an industry of at least 100-150,000 or even 200,000 acres.

Smoking Largest Single Factor In The Cause Of Emphysema

"Emphysema is a complicated, growing problem which should concern everyone," Dr. Harry A. Schroer told over 100 persons attending the annual meeting of the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association recently at the Health Department auditorium.

Emphysema concerns us because it may affect us or our relatives and friends, and it certainly affects the economy of our community, in that it causes disability and welfare dependency. Some 12,000 workers are retired annually on disability due to emphysema," he said.

"Cigarette smoking is the largest single factor in the cause of emphysema and is an insurmountable obstacle in recovery if it is continued.

"Emphysema is a growing problem due to more exposure to smoke from cigarettes, industry, insect sprays, fertilizers, and earlier cigarette smoking in young people."

Dr. Schroer suggested the problem of "discouraging smoking in as many ways as possible; supporting air pollution reduction efforts; supporting the TB & Health Association in research, case finding, and education; and encouraging a sane, practical approach to emphysema with a hopeful treatment program for those who have the disease."

Dr. Schroer noted that the first step in treatment is to stop smoking. Other methods of managing the disease included, "Prompt treatment of any infection; medication by nebulizers; proper nutrition; graduated breathing exercises; supportive medications to maintain optimum health; treatment of other problems, such as heart disease and ulcers which frequently accompany emphysema; and oxygen."

Dr. Schroer predicted more emphysema at an earlier age in the future due to the fact young people today are beginning heavy cigarette smoking earlier.

Dr. Luther L. Terry, Surgeon General of the United States, predicted in March, 1965 that hepatitis, the leading cause of yellow jaundice, should eventually come under control through vaccination.

Vern Clark Killed In Freak Accident

Funeral services for Vern R. Clark, 37, who died enroute to Glades General Hospital, Friday afternoon following a truck-airplane crash on Tallman Sugar Company Farm, were conducted Monday at First Baptist Church.

Investigation into the freak accident that claimed the life of the young husband and father of five children is being conducted by the Sheriff's Department and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Cub Scouts dens 4 and 6 had an outing last Saturday to Dresher Park and the Planetarium in West Palm Beach. The boys had a special tour of the Planetarium at which they saw the various planets and the constellations appear overhead. They learned how they change their location from season to season and how they appear at the North and South Poles and at the Equator.

This was followed by a picnic lunch and a tour of the zoo where they saw, in addition to various domestic animals, two baby monkeys, Joey the Kangaroo, and Toppie the elephant. The elephant which is a new resident at the zoo is being purchased by donations of trading stamps, and both dens took some stamps with them, so they have now helped to buy an elephant.

Several boys would have liked to bring the elephant home with them, and only the lack of sympathy on the part of the den mothers kept some from bringing home baby chicks which the caretaker offered to them.

Those who went were Noel Fuller, Jim Morris, and Carlos Ramos, Edwin Ramos, Weyman Bussey, Tony Martinez and Den mothers Mrs. S. B. Fuller, Mrs. D. and their guest Mike Conway of Den 1, and Mrs. J. K. Korzepp and from Den 6 Reggie Caruthers, Frankie Lovell, Bobby Allen, Bobby Fliche, Gary Van Landingham, Greg Kjanja, Ricky Berrhill, Philip Green, and Benny Joe Parson, Den mother, Mrs. Robert Allen also Mr. Allen, Mrs. Parson, Mrs. Benny H. Parson, and Teddy Caruthers.

Swimming and fishing were enjoyed by members of the group.

The following scouts were in attendance: Scott Berrhill, Steve Berrhill, Brian Moore, Sonny Crawford, Steven Close, Charles Close, Paul White and Charlie Snow.

Adults in attendance were: Herman Close, Merit Badge Counselors, Randy Smith and Conway of Den 1, and Mrs. J. K. Korzepp.

Riding in a pickup truck with two other passengers on a tour of the Tallman operation 20 miles south of South Bay, Clark was struck by the propeller of a low-flying dusting plane and fatally injured when the aircraft zoomed in apparently intending to make a landing on the company-owned road on which the pickup was traveling.

Jack Fullenwider, 40, of 800 SE 2nd Street, who was driving the pickup, was inspecting labor quarters at the mill site accompanied by Clark, personnel manager and security chief for Atlantic Sugar Association, and Sidney De Loach, 42, of Royal Palm Beach, also an employee of the Atlantic Sugar Company.

Fullenwider, and DeLoach, who was riding in the middle, both escaped with only minor injuries, as did the pilot, who was identified as Mitchell Norman Larby, 41, employed by the Ayres Crop Dusting Service of Boca Raton.

Fullenwider reported he and his two companions were just driving along talking over mill operations, with no idea a plane was approaching when the dusting craft rammed piggy-back style aboard the pickup truck.

Over an early morning cup of coffee with Clark, Fullenwider said, he had commented that "someone is going to get hurt by those low-flying planes out there" before he and Clark headed for the mill, while Clark, who was in charge of Atlantic off-shore workers, hoped to gain information helpful in improving his company's quarters. Joining them early that morning at coffee, was Mayor LeBron Williams, who later that day (4:30 in the afternoon) sent his ambulance to the scene of the tragedy to bring Clark to the hospital. Clark reportedly expired as the vehicle neared Belle Glade and was pronounced dead on arrival.

A native of Dania, Florida, Clark moved to Belle Glade 18 years ago. He was a member of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department Auxiliary, American Legion Post No. 20, Belle Glade and was a veteran of World War II. He was recently employed as a butcher in a local food market.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Sarah Wingate, two sons, Joel B. Jr. and Earl, one daughter, Sheryl, all of Belle Glade; one brother, Mr. Rupert E. Wingate of Ocala; one sister, Mrs. Winnie W. Plank of Lake Harbor.

Belle Glade American Legion Post No. 20 had charge of graveside services at the entombment at Foreverglades Mausoleum Gardens.

Palbearers were members of the Sheriff's Department Auxiliary who were Charles Lafayette, Dan Mathis, Eddie Grantz, Larry Elliott, Vernon Henderson and Norman Knicks.

Williams Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

gation has completed action on all local bills for Palm Beach County. We have introduced and will pass over fifty local bills. Although most of these bills were non-controversial, several, particularly salary requests, required numerous meetings of the delegation. Included in these bills were several charter amendments for Pahokee and South Bay. These are passed and now law as I was able to introduce them early in the session.

Several other local bills of interest to our area are still on which a referendum will be held this fall pertaining to our school as: Abolishing millage elections, abolishing salaries of school board members, increasing school board membership from 5-7 members to abolishing the county school trustees. These county school trustees. These questions have been raised from time to time by many citizens from our county and the delegation felt these questions should be placed on the ballot and let our people have an opportunity to vote on the problem.

The question of re-apportionment begins to enter the thinking of the Legislature. This is apparent in the type of legislation that is being introduced, both on a general and on a specific basis. At the present time we are planning our strategy for the special session which will start the money following adjournment of the regular session.

REMEMBERING OUR HONORED DEAD Forget not the sacrifices made by thousands who defended us on the fields of battle. Remember those gallant Americans who have given so much for us throughout our Nation's history.

Memorial Day, May 30th Bank of Pahokee Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

With the vacillating pre-emption of DEAR UNCLE with regard to offering laborers — now off, now on — a final reprieve from financial tragedy for Glades corn and celery growers looms.

However, the corn growers of Zellwood had more corn than they could sell or eat; so, they cut the price of $1.50 and boom went the corn market.

The Crop Reporting Service states that 1,075 carlot equivalents of yellow and 76 of white corn left the Glades this past week.

There appears to be some 1-3/4 million boxes of corn still to be harvested in the Glades — 6745 (estimated) acres.

Celery accounted for 292 carlots during the week, with the price running for 2-1/2's $2.50 and 6-8's $2.75. There is an estimated 700 acres remaining to be cut at an average of approximately 700 crates per acre — near half million crates.

Spring potatoes near their end in the Glades for the year accounted for 48 carlots and radishes sent away 45 carlots. Ohio radish growers are shifting to that area for the season's crop.

Compulsory Unionism And Economic Growth

The third in a series of articles on Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act and The Right To Work.

The Preamble to the Statute of Virginia for religious freedom (which was the forerunner of Article I of the Bill of Rights) declared: "To compel a man to furnish contributions of money for the propagation of opinions which he disbelieves and abhors is sinful and tyrannical."

But champions of compulsory unionism contend that such forced tribute extracted from workers is necessary to insure the well being of workers. The argument union bosses try to press home hardest in that Right to Work means wages will be depressed and the economy stifled wherever it is allowed.

Yet, the latest official statistics published by the Department of Labor show that Right to Work states led the nation percentage-wise in creation of new jobs in business and industry and in lone wage improvement in industrial jobs. Right to Work states show a greater gain in producing new wealth and personal income than do non-Right to Work states.

These statistics — again we point out they were compiled by the U. S. Department of Labor — show that among the top 15 states in wages paid industrial workers seven were Right to Work states. Utah, which has had a Right to Work law since 1947, ranks second in the nation in attracting new industry. And the top three states in the nation for new jobs created — Arizona, Nevada, and Florida — are all Right to Work states.

Let us make one thing clear. Right to Work does not interfere in any way with legitimate union activity. It does not restrict the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively with their employers. Right to Work laws merely guarantee any and all workers their freedom from compulsory union membership. The National Right To Work Committee puts it this way: "Americans must have the right but not be compelled to join labor unions."

The figures prove what we already know; that man prospers in an atmosphere of freedom, but that he is stunted in the shadow of compulsion.

Next: THE INDIVIDUAL AND HIS CIVIL RIGHTS

Matched Strength

In a recent talk, the Agricultural Counsel of the National Association of Food Chains recalled an important bit of more or less ancient history. "I can't help remarking that in the early 1300's when chains first came into prominence, there was great concern that they were going to take over the entire food business. However, through the adoption of similar operating practices — mainly in procurement and warehousing, and self-service supermarkets — the independent has been able to match the strength of the chains and in many cities it is an independent who is the leading distributor."

The statistics bear this out. Independent retailers who have banded together into voluntary and cooperative organizations do about 45 percent of the grocery business in this country. The corporate chains do an equal amount, and the remaining 10 percent is done by small unaffiliated independent retailers.

The moral of this is that, in a free enterprise system of doing things, no one has a monopoly of talent, imagination or initiative. Those who, thirty years or so ago, feared the death of independent retailing unwittingly did the independents a gross injustice. The independents confounded the prophets of doom by adopting the chain-pioneered principles of low-cost mass distribution and applying it to their own operations with full success.

The result has been fair competition, under which energetic, foresighted and progressed — and consumers have benefited enormously. Chains in all lines of merchandising have earned the credit for a goodly share of our American living standards.

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION

The new federal aid to education bill — a measure which, of its kind, is unprecedented in scope, cost, and purpose — is now law.

It remains to be seen how much further the federal government will go in its invasion of the educational world — and what effect there will be on local responsibility and authority. But, looking at the statistics, it is difficult to see what need there is for the federal government to play a Big Brother role in the educational scheme of things.

In the last decade, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports, spending on public schools increased 157 per cent, while enrollment rose only 45 per cent. About 65 per cent of the increased spending came from local and state taxes and bonds, and only 5 per cent from the federal government. Every sign indicates that during coming years states and communities will have the resources to meet educational needs and demands.

Federal aid to education, on a big scale, is simply part of the trend toward giving more and more authority to the central government. It is a trend that is gradually and surely destroying the traditional concept of the division of powers and responsibilities among governments.

WHAT IS GOOD FOR THE SOIL
IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL

"What Is Good For The Soil"

May 23-30 is Soil Stewardship Week. During this week ministers throughout the nation will again deliver sermons on our duties as protectors and rebuilders of the soil. It is true that we are stewards of the soil. Farmers, ranchers, townspeople alike have come to realize the importance of preserving this precious heritage. None of us can be separated from the soil, because our very sustenance of living is determined by the way we conserve and improve it.

The American people in recent years, have poured great amounts of time, energy, and money into the task of conserving and improving the soil of their country, state, and nation. The results have been a near revolution in agriculture. Farmers who formerly mined and despoiled their God-given heritage are now striving desperately to make amends for past deeds.

The Palm Beach-Broward Soil Conservation District with 3,000 other Conservation Districts in the United States will observe Soil Stewardship Week.

Uncle Dan Says

Dear Mister Editor:

The session at the County store Saturday night was thrown into a state of shocks and emergency when Ed Danville announced he had got himself one of them gasoline credit cards.

Furthermore, Ed said he was applying for one of them travel credit cards that is good for everything from a Greyhound Bus trip to the World's Fair to a tour of the Congo. He allowed as how a feller was going to have to keep moving under President Lyndon to keep from getting run over in the rush.

Some of the fellers figured Ed had ought to offer a apology for breaking tradition with his forefathers in this credit card business. Zeke Grubb, for instance, claimed our ancestors didn't know much but they knew how to do without. But Ed argued he wasn't doing nothing but his civic duty in getting adjusted to the buy-now-and-pay-later philosophy under the Great Society.

Clem Webster reported he was mighty disappointed in Ed and predicted the county chairman might throw Ed out of the Republican Party for getting too liberal and too far to the left in these matters.

Bug Hookum was lamenting he couldn't handle but one card problem at a time. He said a feller never got a bill or a statement no more, all he got was a card punched full of holes. He reported he had four of them at his house now and all of them said not to bend, tear, pinch, fold, staple, crease, clip, rip, slip, break, mutilate, scratch or nick. Bug said he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown trying to give them cards the necessary care till he could pay 'em. He reported he had put 'em in the refrigerator to keep 'em at the proper temperature till mailing time.

It's pretty hard, Mister Editor, for oldtimers to get used to getting things in this computer jungle. If you have ever took note, when old folks gets together they set around and talk mostly about the past and sarter make light of the new generation. I reckon this is on account of old folks has got more to look back on than future to look forward to.

One feller at the store Saturday night allowed as how if this bunch of young'uns of today would follow in their Pa's footprints they'd be better off. I didn't say nothing, but in his case Pa didn't make any.

About the only words of great wisdom at the session Saturday night come from the feller that runs the store. He said he opened his place in 1924 when he had what was known in them days as "Cash and Carry" and a penny was worth pinching, had saw the world get so mixed up that anytime he was able to be up and about and feeling halfway good, he figured he was gaining on his neighbor.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Dairy Council Award Is Won By Judy Seiler

Outstanding home economics students in Palm Beach County senior high schools are being honored for the first time by the Dairy Council of South Florida through an awards program. The winner at Belle Glade high school is Judy Seiler, daughter of Chase E. Seiler, 208 NW Avenue G, Belle Glade. She will receive a gold charm bracelet at the awards assembly to be held at Belle Glade High School Auditorium June 2.

Judy is president of Future Homemakers of America and is on the staff of the school annual. Upon graduation, she plans to go to nursing school at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami.

The program, inaugurated last year in other areas, is a first for this county. This year all 10 southeast Florida counties in which the Dairy Council operates are participating in the program.

The winner in each school was chosen by school personnel in cooperation with Mrs. Joanne Kalk, executive director of the Dairy Council. A total of 62 young women in 10 counties will be honored.

Commissioner Conner Finds Support For Fla. And Calif Labor Fight

Florida farmers have new support from California and wholesalers in a dispute with the U. S. Department of Labor over that agency's policy against importing harvest labor from foreign lands.

The aroused interest among members of Chicago's food industry today comes in the wake of an outcropping of concern last week in New York City over the same issue.

Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner, visiting the two markets to participate in the annual Florida Fruit & Vegetable Jamboree, was besieged by complaints from buyers in food prices as fresh produce and merchandising executives here today.

The metropolitan stir is prompted by the threatening rise in supply of produce under the pressure of a labor shortage.

Evidence continues to mount in support of the view that the Labor Department's insistence on domestic labor being used in the harvest is working a tremendous hardship on growers, felt by growers in Florida and other states now. Soon this is expected to force higher prices and a slimmer choice for the nation's consumers of fresh fruit and vegetables.

Commissioner Conner learned that Florida growers already have suffered $100,000 in losses directly attributable to the harvest labor shortage.

The Florida sweet corn crop will peak next week, and it is anticipated that the losses from unharvested corn could exceed those for celery. Adding to the plight of corn growers is the fact that the highly perishable product must be harvested no later than one or two days before maturity or it is rendered unfit for human consumption. Such leafy crops as cabbage, none demanding investment as high as those risked for corn and celery, are being bypassed by diversified producers who are having their thin ranks of harvesters concentrate on the celery and corn.

A given bean field usually is picked more than once, but San-Juan area producers are finding it necessary to make the first picking and pass up the usual subsequent pickings.

Vine-ripe tomatoes and cucumbers are being harvested, but slowly. The tardy picking reduces quality (tomatoes over-ripe and cucumbers too big) and shrinks the producer's return on his investment.

Florida watermelons are not directly affected by the Labor Department's rulings on imported labor since such imports are not used for the melon harvest. However, the intensified competition for domestic labor has forced melon growers to pay $1.50 to $2.00 an hour for the most menial field duties compared with a scale of $1.00 to $1.25 a year ago.

If the labor prospects in Florida are currently miserable, Commissioner Conner acknowledges that Florida has plenty of country, California strawberries, tomatoes and asparagus reportedly have been hit hard by the federal regulation.

While visiting the huge wholesale produce center in Chicago this week, Conner has heard many tales of wage regarding not only Florida supplies but those from California and elsewhere.

One wholesaler, Sam J. Schatz of Gridley-Maxon & Company, showed the Florida Commissioner an official government dispatch which described soaring prices on California strawberries resulting from the labor shortage.

The berries were selling for $5.25 to $6.00 per flat compared to $3.00 to $3.50 per flat a year ago the dispatch indicated.

In an attempt to pinpoint rising problems common to both California and Florida on this issue, Commissioner Conner contacted one of the Pacific State's largest berry growers, the Heringer & Florio Company, which he complimented with the wishes of Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz on the Saturday morning hiring 168 school children to help with the harvest. The youngsters worked an average 1.8 flat each, and each youngster's labor cost the producer $2.80 per flat of berries.

Lacking adequate manpower, the producer said 579 acres of his 2,000 acres have been untouched by harvesters and that he may have to slow under half or 1,000 acres, of his huge berry plantings.

Commissioner Conner discussed the labor situation at length during a luncheon for Chicago wholesalers, retailers, and food editors. The luncheon was a highlight of the Jamboree.

Conner also conferred privately with a top-ranking official of the USDA to explore possible remedies for Florida and other producing areas.

New steps in seeking relief are expected to be revealed by Conner within a few days as a result of the conference.

The average patient's hospital stay is nearly half as long today as it was 30 years ago. $300 average stay in 1935 was 34 days and today it is 7.7 days.

The decline is attributed to the American Hospital Association to better medicines, new equipment and improved treatment.

Thirty-five years ago there were 450,000 children in the U. S. under 18 who had lost both parents. In 1963, due in part to the effectiveness of modern medicine in keeping people alive, there were only 63,000 such orphans despite an increase in the population of over 50 per cent.

Belle Glade Elementary News

MRS. WILLIAMS' First Grade

The first grade children were so excited Thursday when the new air-conditioner was delivered. They watched the wiring taking place. They will be very happy when the air-conditioner is installed.

So many of their friends have moved away.

The children enjoyed Reverend Boland displaying his music instruments and listening to the music. Thank you Rev. Boland.

MRS. GLORIA SMITH'S First Grade

Our cadet teacher, Beth Livingston was with us Thursday. She helped us to better understand the meaning of the words, tallest and shortest, largest and smallest.

We made pictures using acorns that we picked up under the oak tree on the school ground. We glued the acorns on the paper and then painted them.

MRS. EVELYN JOHNSON'S First Grade

We were enjoyed having our cadet teacher, Connie Bacon, visit our room and work with us for six weeks.

We have completed our study of seeds in science. Now we are experimenting by planting seeds and observing them each day. We also have some tadpoles in our room to see how they change as a frog.

MRS. BATTLE'S Fourth Grade CATS

A cat is a popular house pet and it is one of the smartest animals. Cats make good friends, but they are independent and want their own way. That is why it usually takes longer to train them than a dog. Many cats help man by killing rats or mice that live in their homes. Most of the cats hate dogs, but some of them like dogs. You can make a dog and a cat like each other by putting them together in a box or a bed. A cat can tear an animal apart with their claws and teeth. They have claws that can be put inside the foot unless being used. The hair of the cat is shed when it is hot.

MRS. DAVIDSON'S 8th Grade

This week we formed committees to find out about the Belle Glade Water System. One committee was to find and report on how we get our water. Timmy McKee was the chairman of this committee.

Other members were Earl Ballard and Ted Burgess. They found out that our water comes from the lake, is purified and then sent to the people. This other committee was to report on how our water is purified. Jan Winchester was chairman with Wesley Alford and Benny McGee as members. The reports were good and we invited the other sixth graders in to hear them.

In Social Studies we are studying Africa.

MRS. HOTARD'S First Grade

Kathy Shirley had a tonsillectomy Friday. We miss her and hope she will soon be back. We are writing a booklet about Timmy-Tock, The Clock. He is helping us learn to tell time. We have planted some black-eyed peas. The plants are coming up.

MRS. BATTLE'S 4th Grade FOOTBALL

Football, the king of autumn sports in the United States. It holds away from the close of baseball season until basketball begins. No game demands more teamwork, strength, courage & alertness, or provides a more thrilling spectacle — and few games have as lively a history. Football is the chief sport in most colleges and universities, as well as in thousands of secondary schools. It is also played by teams representing cities, playgrounds and industrial organizations, as well as by teams of professional players. It's a game of players, however, are a handful in comparison with its spectators. The millions of dollars spent each year for tickets to football games have built mammoth stadiums. Those at the University of California, Stanford University, the University of Michigan and Yale can each seat 70,000 persons or more. City stadiums, too, are used for football. Soldier Field in Chicago, the Philadelphia Municipal Stadium and the Los Angeles Coliseum, each hold more than 100,000. The Rose Bowl at Pasadena, California, can seat about 80,000.

by Jorge L. Varona

MRS. DAVIS' 4th and 5th Grade

Susan Keller brought a bean plant to school. We made experiments with it, such as seeing how long it takes it to turn towards the sun and see how it helps it when you water it.

MRS. LANIER'S 5TH GRADE

Thursday, May 13. Dr. Winchester came to our room and showed us some slides about Puerto Rico. We also had an air-conditioner put in. They can't find the front to the air-conditioner. Saturday, May 8, the Patrol boys and girls that were going to Washington left that morning. Mr. Willis went with them. Mrs. Willis' pupils drew the name of a teacher out of a box. They stayed in these rooms. Monday, Tuesday, and Friday.

Sterling Winchester

MR. MANN'S 6TH GRADE

This week several pupils gave reports on different Latin American countries, such as Bolivia, given by Bargerita Bastanzuri; Chile, George Molina; and Ecuador, Deborah Goff. We're going to have a party maybe at the park.

Eddie Haines Gets Science Award

Eddie Haines, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Haines, recently represented Belle Glade at the State Science Fair in Orlando, Fla.

Eddie's project dealt with Two Methods of Hatching Snake Eggs. His project was judged as the best project in the local fair and best zoology project in the regional fair at Indian River Jr. College.

This is Eddie's second trip to the State Science Fair. Last year he won honors with his project entitled making snakes good pets. The state fair was held in Jacksonville.

Eddie developed an interest in reptiles and snakes as a young boy. Through his interest, he began working part time at Gator-time in South Bay.

He spends a part of each week end caring for and feeding animals on exhibit at Gatorland.

Eddie catches the snakes with a special snake stick and feeds them by force. He finds it necessary to raise white mice to feed his pet reptiles. Eddie plans to do his undergraduate work in the tenth, and chemistry in the eleventh. Eddie plans to major in zoology. He plans to do his graduate work in herpetology at the University of Florida.

Comments one of his teachers "Eddie is a top academic student and a pleasure to have in class."

Mr. O'Neal Walker and Mr. J. C. Bowen co-owners of Gatorland helped to defray Eddie's expenses to the State Science Fair.

Stand Your Ground

The following story is told about Henry Ward Beecher as a boy:

The teacher in the school he attended asked a boy a question which the boy answered. Apparently the teacher was much interested at the answer and cried testily: Sit down! The ashamed boy sat abruptly down. Several boys were asked the same question and gave the same answer and promptly became confused when the teacher voiced his unexplained disapproval.

Finally Beecher was called and gave the same answer as the other boys. But Beecher held his ground and insisted that the answer was correct as it was given to him by his father. He was so confident that the answer was correct that he stood up for it. He was the only one sure enough to stand up for it.

It is important not only to give the right answer but to stick to it through thick and thin.

Multum In Parvo

The people that throw mud always have dirty hands. The road to knowledge is not paved. The paved road passes through anywhere and stops at nowhere.

You can't whitewash yourself by blackening others.

Face the sunshine and the shadows will fall behind you.

For every bad habit you give up you automatically contract a good one.

Swear off on talking and see what a good listener you become.

Use the Golden Rule.

Oil your brain occasionally with a good brand of constructive thought.

It's a hard job to work with rusty tools.

Every time you frown you vaccinate yourself against happiness.

Keep it up and it is bound to take.

Be patient with the faults of others - they have to be patient with you.

The man who keeps himself and machine under control at all times never becomes angry - this anybody can do.

The pathway of Life is just about like any other congested street. If you don't keep going you get crowded to one side.

Class Night in Gym

The Annual Class Night for the graduating class will be held May 28 in the high school gymnasium. The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. and the public is invited.

Class Night will be presented in two parts. The first part will be a play, "Dear Diary," written by a committee of Seniors, the second part will be a musical, "The Night We Stayed In," which will feature the talents of the school's musical group.

During the second part awards and student recognition will be presented by Mr. Morris. The Seniors will give a traditional chain of flowers to the Junior Class.

Friend

A friend is one who needs us and at one time we need. Around us may be many whose companionship we enjoy, but were they suddenly to drop out of their places there would be no lack of comfort, no deprivation, no lack of comfort. We do not need them, neither do they need us. A friend is one to whom we cling, though many leagues of space separate us. Though days pass with no sight of him, we feel his presence. When we meet him we find that he has been with us all the time. We shall bring him with us. A friend is one in whom we can confide. The secret of his love is that he is open to us. Thousands imagine their friends are numbered by scores, but if subjected to these tests every one of them would fall into the great sea of common humanity.

Make Your Mark

Dear Student:

There have been times that someone has graduated from high school only to face the world with a big nothing. If you are a senior, you are probably facing that problem now. The problem you have not trained for one specific job. But you can make your mark in the world just as other great people have. All it takes is three easy lessons.

First, you must believe in yourself. Even the tiniest of us have the power to reach it. Even if you don't succeed, you will find that you have gone farther than you would have if you had not tried.

Second, as was said, you have not been trained for any specific job. Therefore to reach your goal in life, you will have to know how to reach each position in the ladder. This requires extra training.

Third, you've got to be determined not to give up. Pick the farthest star in the universe and strive to reach it. Even if you don't succeed, you will find that you have gone farther than you would have if you had not tried.

Once you master these teachings, the sky is yours.

Cordially yours,
Ira Friend

A Senior's Lament

By Sandra Wilson

Graduation is almost here. And my worries are almost gone.

It seems as though with the end of school year, a little mercy would be shown. But we poor Seniors no one pities.

We only get the assignment: read A TALE OF TWO CITIES.

Then there's Humanities with its heart, literature, and music. It makes you groan and wonder "Oh, why did I choose it?"

Mrs. Earwood's art is all right for kids.

But be sure to remember Ryder and Hicks.

And Mr. Stevens seems to think we care.

About Susanna and Figaro's love affair.

Mrs. Smith's literature class is all right as it goes.

Except for Crime and Punishment and De Berger's nose.

As for Mr. Painter's bookkeeping practice set.

It would make a good bonfire I'd almost bet.

About his typing set I feel the same.

It too, I'd like to see go up in flames.

And then there's home-ec with its matching list.

That's the kind Mrs. Litchfield likes best.

It would be okay if the answers were made up.

But not one fits a question out of the whole big batch.

And last but not least is Mr. Ragan's class.

Oh, brother, is it ever a gas.

With George and Louise and Wilbur, what a mess.

Here comes Mr. Ragan a-swinging his board.

Only six more days, that's just what I need.

But I don't know if I can stand it - How about you?

Quotable Quotes

It is easier to believe a lie that one has heard a thousand times than to believe a fact that one has never heard before.

A compromise is the art of dividing a cake in such a way that everyone believes that he has gotten the biggest piece.

He who asks a question is a fool for five minutes; he who does not ask a question remains a fool forever.

If you must talk about your troubles, don't talk about your friends with them - tell them to your enemies, they will be delighted to hear about them.

Assembly Features Honors And Awards

Recognition and awards for the honors received this year were presented to the students on May 18.

John Brown Evans won the Most Valuable Player Award in baseball. Riley Foster received an award for being the most improved player, and George Rodriguez earned a trophy for having the highest batting average. Receiving letters and jackets were John Evans, Johnny Spencer, Gary Walker, John Lee Henderson, Riley Foster, Eddie Hart, Eddie Jimmerson, Mike Shiver, Tommy Woods, and to the manager, Gene Kicklighter.

Mr. Groover awarded the Science Award to Eddie Haines for the second year. Eddie has been his science projects to the state contest both years.

Mrs. Stevenson recognized the members of the F. T. A. They are Alice Rashley, Connie Bannan, Silly Hernandez, Terry McWhorter, Janet Hotard, Pat Fisher, Gwen Gove, Beth Livingston, Len Ann Berryhill, Lon Da Lough, Janet Crichfield, and Jo Vickers.

Judy Seiler, representing the F. H. A., presented Mr. Morris with a $100 check that will be used for curtains for the cafeteria.

John Bamford gave awards to Beta Club members who maintained the highest scholastic averages for the first five grading periods of the school year. Receiving the award for the highest grade average was Richard Hooker, for the 10th grade was Sherri Burgess, and the 11th grade was won by Libby White and Glenn Wolf.

College Preparation

Students should take the stiff academic program they can successfully carry. It is usually necessary in science, mathematics, foreign language, social studies and English. They are advised to work constantly for good grades. Some extracurricular activities can be engaged in, but they should not be so busy that they are neglecting their studies.

The plot was centered around a boy named Tootsie who was a member of the Tootsie Pop Factory's board of directors, but also a spy!

The cast consisted of fourteen actors, all of which were an asset to the play. Among the cast was Tootsie who was played by Diana Moore, a beautiful girl who was played by Joetta Burnett, and Alfreda who was played by Maria Munoz-Budama. Also, Jackie Fisher acted as Oglethorpe, and Louise was played by Ronnie Hicks.

Other cast members included: N. T. Napoleon Kuraykin, was played by Keith Cook, Lola, a secretary, was played by Maria Munoz-Budama, and a cleaning woman, Grindle, was portrayed by Sara Gonzalez. Hawk, the Tootsie Pop Factory's member, was played by Rickie Noland and Jeff Threlkeld.

How To Be Liked

1. Always recognize and be considerate of the feelings of others. This is the prime attribute of a good leader.

2. Learn to really understand and like people in general. Their attitude toward you is a reflection of the way you feel toward them.

3. Learn to be a good mixer. This means being kind and friendly to all those with whom you come in contact.

4. Become interested in what the other fellow is doing. Incidentally, you might learn something of value.

5. Always respect the other fellow's right to his own opinion. You do not have to agree with him.

6. Never tease or joke about facts to which others might be sensitive. These are shallow factors capable of inflicting deep and permanent wounds.

7. Be a builder-upper. When you hear someone else down, your own stock goes down.

8. Be cheerful even when you feel gloomy. A cheerful person is a good listener.

9. Learn to be a good listener. Your mission in life is not to broadcast.

10. Develop a sense of humor. A good laugh is better medicine than the doctor's pills.

11. Cultivate unselfishness. The infant is born selfish - you should have grown since.

12. Be fairminded. What a person is and does determines his worth, not how or when he was born.

Alice Rashley Awarded Faculty Scholarship

Miss Alice Rashley is the recipient of the Belle Glade High School Faculty Scholarship. This scholarship is for $100 to be given per semester or trimester for the four years the student is in college, and is based on the student's scholastic ability, financial need, and an expression of interest in the teaching program.

Alice has been an active member of Beta Club for three years. She will attend Palm Beach Junior College this fall, and then hopes to attend the Atlantic University in Boca Raton.

This September the Belle Glade High School Faculty will be installing helping four students attending college under this scholarship plan.

Youth

Throughout the world, growing numbers of young people are being gripped by an alarming fever of recklessness. Although the vast majority of teenagers lead law-abiding lives, middle-class homes where brutality and amorality are traditionally unthinkable.

What can be done? How can the efforts to raise the living standards avoid producing a diseased harvest of antisocial behavior? Perhaps the solution can be found by probing into the origin of the problem.

It is important to consider the fact that parents should not surrender their responsibilities by condemning the modern generation. Youth needs help, not NOT accusations. Affluence has changed family life. If parents were to examine closely their own conduct - the concern with material possessions, the deceptions practiced for business and social advancement, the very little they find the seeds of their children's misconduct!

Children learn by example from their parents. It is the parents' duty to realize the beauty of life.

The Common Task

It is not the straining for great things that is most effective; it is the doing of the little things, the common duties, a little better and better - the constant improving of what we do.

We often see young people who seem very ambitious to get into common tasks and are impatient of what they call the drudgery of their situation, but who are doing this drudgery badly and humbly call it a very bad thing.

Yet it is only by doing the common things uncompletely, well, doing them with great enthusiasm, as quickly, and as efficiently as possible, that you take the drudgery out of them.

This is what counts in the final issue. How can you expect to do a great thing well when you

Graduation Activities Climax Close Of 1964-65 School Year

The climax of a senior's year is here at last - Senior Night, Baccalaureate, and Graduation.

CLASS NIGHT
Class Night is to be held on Friday, May 28 at 7:30 p. m. A class history will be acted out in skits performed by the seniors. The theme will be "Dear Diary," the title of the class play. The second half of the program will be for the distribution of awards.

Para Medic Club

As the year is coming to a close, many clubs are electing officers to serve next year. The Paramedical Club is no exception.

Mrs. Litchfield, sponsor of the club, and this year's officers have decided the club will serve as 1965-66 officers. They are: Mary Kate Ponder, President; Pat Williams, Vice President; Tanya Croft, Secretary; Janice White, Treasurer; Judy Hueston, Historian; Linda Lee, Reporter; Mrs. Tama Livingston, Student Advisor Para Medics Board.

Following the banquet at the Dixiana Grill on May 23, 1965, the installation of incoming officers took place.

Much of the credit should go to the outgoing officers for the well-planned programs and their diligent work in the club activities were all earning the award.

Laura Livingston, President; Diane Sheahan, Vice President; Janice White, Treasurer; Tanya Croft, Historian; Pat Williams, Representative.

Building Cathedrals

Three men, all engaged at the same employment, were asked who was making five dollars a day. One replied that he was cutting grass. The second was building a cathedral. The difference was not in what they were actually doing, but in what they were building. The third might quite possibly have him the more expert at his task.

Although the third might quite possibly have him the more expert at his task, he had a greater vision. He was building a cathedral, not just a house.

The farmer may be only plant seed, but if he opens his eyes he is feeding the world. The inventor, the scientist, the clerk in the store, likewise are building their cathedrals. The inventor, the scientist, the clerk in the store, likewise are building their cathedrals.

It is the duty of every man to build a cathedral, not just a house.

It is the duty of every man to build a cathedral, not just a house.

It is the duty of every man to build a cathedral, not just a house.

The story begins in Devon, England, in 1681, when the heroine, Honor Harris, celebrates her eighteenth birthday. She meets and falls in love with Sir Richard Grenville, Charles V's general in the West, who shares her tumultuous life during the stress and strife of England's civil wars.

VONCILE ROGERS - Janet Hotard

MARTHA BRANE - Her eyes look like Jane's!

COCO PUFF - Look at that smile! I just don't know somebody here who has a smile like that. Whoever she is, she's cute.

JOHN SPONCE - It is Julie Burnett!

JEFF ALTMAN - John Brown Evans with a wig on!

JOHN BROWN EVANS - Cynthia Nutti

JOAN WILLIS - Julie Burnett!

MIKE MARROTA - I don't tell you, I really couldn't stick out far enough!

KATH LEBEAU - I don't know... It looks like Lydia Long.

The seniors class of 1965 of Lake Shore High School is very proud to announce that their class night is tomorrow night, May 28, 1965. This night promises to be exciting and unlike any others.

The evening promises to feature Willie Benjamin, with the welcome address, a skit entitled "On the Campus," Laurita Mack with the class play, and the class song by the seniors.

Another event that the members of the senior class will bring to the public will be their commencement exercises, June 3, 1965. This exercise will feature Dorothy Brown with the Monologue; Chester Keaser with the welcome address; and Mary Ann Smith as the Valedictorian. The chorus and band will also perform at this most promising event. Mrs. E. M. Shaw and Mr. J. Allen are the directors for these events. We, the seniors of Lake Shore High School, are asking everyone to please come out and enjoy these activities.

Horriblescope (Tarus)

April 20 - May 21
This is your month to adjust and adapt yourself to the world around you. Refrain from acting in a manner and aggressively academic, be normal like everyone else. Demagnetize your personality — acquire a sloshy appearance, work on your speech to obtain a slur — never accept with no delusion — always pronounce "D's, O's or C's" as ending of words. Be dull and boring and gain popularity. Don't strive for any culture in your education — strive for uncutness.

Whatever you do — don't spoil things by combining and adapt yourself to the world around you. Refrain from acting in a manner and aggressively academic, be normal like everyone else. Demagnetize your personality — acquire a sloshy appearance, work on your speech to obtain a slur — never accept with no delusion — always pronounce "D's, O's or C's" as ending of words. Be dull and boring and gain popularity. Don't strive for any culture in your education — strive for uncutness.

Never wash your teeth — if you do everyone will know you are different. YOUR GOAL IS TO BE A LEADER. Look at yourself — you are filthy — you stink — your hair is all over your head — your breath smells like ten miles of bad road, and you are ignorant. NOW YOU CAN LEAD THE HIPSTERS ON TO FAME. You can wipe out all the conservatives. Down with the Landreites and Cleaners! Off with the Head of Soap Manufacturers! No More Arts in School — You can now dare proponents of the good life to be DIFFERENT. After your platform is completed — Count your constituents and IF YOU STAND ALONE — REVAMP your program — Something went wrong.

Granny Advises

Dear Granny,
From recent experiences I have found out that some boys are unaware of the fact that they are supposed to bring their date a corsage when they pick them up. Can you inform them on what is expected of them when going to such an affair?
Flowerless

Dear Flowerless,
A boy should always bring his date a corsage. He should not let his date pick it up at her home, of course. He should be a perfect gentleman — open doors and escort her in the right manner. It is said that your first dance will be with your date. And by all means nuke — your date is first preference. Make sure your date is home at the proper time, seeing her to her door.
Granny

Maybe these tips can help; if not consult your library.

Dear Granny,
I have three girls and I love all of them. I have put them through various tests, and all of them have passed.

Teaching — the process

Teaching is the process by which one person helps others achieve knowledge, skills, and attitudes. At least two persons are always involved in teaching, the teacher and the learner. This guidance encourages the learner to do things that result in desired learning, such as the ability to read and write. Learning is an activity of the learner. Teaching creates conditions that will encourage and stimulate learning.

By means of teaching, man passes along to each generation the knowledge, skills, and attitudes needed for the continuation of life. Almost everyone teaches someone else as one time or another. Schools, Colleges, and universities provide formal teaching, but people often teach each other informally. For an example, parents teach their children many important things. Business and industry often teach their employees skills needed in work.

Our modern life depends on the formal teaching provided by schools and colleges. People need such formal training to process steel, to build airplanes, to publish newspapers, to direct government, to manage homes, and to do countless other things.

More persons belong to the teaching profession than to any other. In the United States, more than 800,000 men and women teach in public and private elementary schools, over 550,000 in secondary schools, and more than 300,000 in colleges and universities. In Canada, about 150,000 men and women teach in the public and private elementary and secondary schools, and more than 13,000 conduct classes in college and universities.

To be a good teacher at any school level, a person must understand his students and other people. A teacher must be able to establish good personal relations with his students. Some persons cannot gain confidence of young children and easily guide them into constructive activities. Others do not have this ability. Some teachers can understand teenagers and be accepted by them, but others cannot. Some can work effectively with mature students but others find this difficult.

A good teacher gains satisfaction from helping others to learn. If you are a person who has short patience, you should not consider the teaching profession because teachers need to have patience in order to work with students and to get their cooperation.

Well Informed?

Laurita Mack
Did you know that television is the predominant entertainment for American families? Ever since it swept the nation a dozen years ago, parents have been worried about its effects on their children. Questions have been asked and studies have been made on the subject and the facts varied. The number of television sets in American homes have increased from fewer than a million to more than 55,000,000.

Americans spend as much as four hours a day to as little as 15 minutes watching T. V. Although teenagers spend much time with radios, the 10, 11, and 12 year old out-number them as TV viewers.

Along with the well-known children's programs — cartoons, Superman, Walt Disney — most youngsters also watch crime shows, situation comedies, variety programs, dramas; few see news, public affairs or documentaries.

Many parents worry about the influence TV has on their children. Others believe that it is a fine baby sitter. Television has its good and bad aspects, but we should not devote our reading, playing, and most of our valuable time to it. It is wise to budget your time and become well-rounded.

Dear Puzzled,
They may have passed the test but you have flunked. It's not probable that you love three girls. You're mistaken and infatuated friendship of love. Don't say you love these girls; say you have a mutual likeness for them, and see what happens from this point of view.

A Stitch In Time . . .

Seniors take heed! You'll have one of the keys to college success in your hand if you adopt a policy of "do it now" early in your freshman year.

If you visit any school campus now, you will find many students in a mad scramble to complete some of their work that was assigned at the beginning of the semester. You would see others cramming in outside reading assignments that should have been done long ago-before final exams.

The students who have developed the habit of putting things off are always going to get around to doing those assignments they've been given weeks to finish.

In the few remaining weeks of school they might end up getting everything done by putting the clean on, but then nothing they do is quite as good as it could have been had they planned their time more carefully. The results usually are lower grades.

Since you're going to have to do those long term assignments sometime you might as well get busy on them as soon after they're given as possible.

It's only fair to yourself to let the fruit of the labor be reflected in high grades also you should know that a better job is done without pressure biting from all sides.

Mimi's Column

How sweet it was! Of course I am talking about the prom of '65. It was very exciting and let me tell you, I have some exciting news.

M. D., why did you leave J. P. and go with D. P. after the prom? After all, J. P. carried you there. Aren't you ashamed?

A. M. B., I am surprised at your leaving C. B. W., in the prom. Its too late to explain.

D. B., I know you had a wonderful time at the pool with M. H. Was that your way of celebrating?

B. T., you seemed to be sad at the prom, but why were you so happy at the beach? You can't fool me, I know about your new love, R. C.

F. L., I understand that you went to the wrong house looking for your date. Open the door Richard.

M. F., I saw that you and J. P. were having a ball at the prom. What's going to happen when J. S. comes home?

C. C. P., I see you had a boss convertible MG to the prom. Did you get a ticket? Remember speeding is against the law.

W. B. J., I see you were having fun at the Larry Hargrove show doing "the charge" with B. A. Dancing is fun.

Tips To The Female Student Of Week

Laurita Mack

LADIES:

School is closing now and many of us (especially seniors) will be looking for jobs to finance our education next fall. The following hints should be of help to you as to how to prepare yourself.

1. Get a social security card at the nearest Social Security Office.

2. Find out about your state's labor laws. You may obtain this information by writing to the State Department of Labor, state capital. Check these laws before you go job hunting.

3. A good resume is the main tool to take along on a job hunt. It's a "summing up" or outline of who you are, what you are, what you know, and what you have done.

4. The proper clothes to wear varies according to the type of job you are trying to get. Be sure you are neat and clean. Stockings are a must; shoes, not sandals, meekers, or ballet slippers, are proper. For a job in a private home or small-town business loafers are acceptable.

5. Be sure to check your nails, hair, and make-up.

6. Be polite; act interested, and above all don't chew gum.

She plans to attend South Carolina State College. This student has an "A" average.

Who saw the above description fit better than Gloria Lane, a member 66 7-1 Homeroom.

Gloria, we are encouraging you to keep up the good work and you will succeed in the future. Good luck to you!
